Home Care Assistance of Rhode Island presents When Life Gives You Lemons

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Wakefield, RI - Home Care Assistance of Rhode Island will be presenting When Life Gives You Lemons, on May 24th from 6:30-8:30 pm, at The Contemporary Theater of Wakefield. Featuring the ancient art of storytelling, in community to demystify dementia and learn together from a wellness perspective.

Home Care Assistance of Rhode Island is proud to bring in community partners to raise awareness and share some of the initiatives happening in South County to create a supportive community. Come and share your insights, lessons learned and bright moments or just come and listen.

Tickets are $10. They can be purchased on Eventbrite or at the door. Proceeds will go to the Alzheimer's Association and the Contemporary Theater of Wakefield.

Patricia Schumacher, the owner of Home Care Assistance of Rhode Island says "So much work is being done now on the power of optimism. Storytelling is an age-old healing tradition. We love the idea of using art as a vehicle for expressing hopes and concerns and fostering connections; there is no downside to it. Our goal is to educate and advocate. We've got a great community and we want to share all the good things happening here as a community."
